Talent Connections Adds Alan Lee
New Director to Lead Executive Search Practice

Atlanta, GA - Talent Connections, LLC, an Atlanta-based recruiting consulting firm that serves some of the city's most recognized companies, today announced the addition of Alan Lee as Director of Executive Search. Lee brings extensive recruiting leadership experience to the company and will lead the firm's expanding Executive Search Practice.

"It has become increasingly difficult for companies to attract and acquire the right candidates for executive roles critical to their strategic objectives," said Tom Darrow, principal and founder of Talent Connections. "Alan brings to Talent Connections an extensive resume of recruiting expertise and successes and his integrity and values fit perfectly with what we're known for. In this role he will assist clients using the same strategies and tools which brought HomeBanc national recognition as a premier employer during his leadership there."

Prior to joining Talent Connections, Alan served as the Senior Vice President of the Office of People & Culture and Chief Recruiting Officer for HomeBanc Mortgage Corporation where he was accountable for meeting the human capital acquisition, management and development requirements for all segments of the business. During his years at HomeBanc, the company was ranked the best employer in numerous metropolitan cities, including Atlanta, and ranked nationally for four consecutive years by FORTUNE magazine's annual listing of The 100 Best Companies to Work For. Other recruiting and training leadership roles include working for Wachovia Corporation, The Coca-Cola Company and NationsBank (now Bank of America).

"Talent Connections is expert at placing the right candidates based upon both qualification and cultural fit which translates into higher retention and productivity," said Lee. "I look forward to partnering with companies on attracting top talent and achieving best fit for leadership roles critical to the organization's long term success."

Lee holds a bachelor of science degree in industrial management with a specialization in finance from The Georgia Institute of Technology and has held numerous leadership positions in professional and community organizations over the years.
